D. and C. E. Denny and C. R. and W. P. Sprinkle to search every person was armed. The search was made, and nobody in the large crowd escaped it, but no revolvers were found, and whether this was because of any forewarning as to the probable course of Judge Skeen is not known. Judge Skeen then called the case of Dock Burket, one of 200 or more men who are under indictment charged with having been involved in election briberies. It was decided last week to make a test of this case in order to determine whether or not under the election bribery statute a person can be compelled to testify that he bought votes.

C. R. Flanary, the first witness called, refused to answer to the question as to whether he bought votes in the election of last fall. Judge Skeen fined him $25 for his refusal to testify, and an appeal was prayed. The case will now go to the Supreme Court in order to test the point involved.

The defendant will be represented before the Court of Appenlas by M. G. Fly, former Commonwealth's attorney of Lee county, and John C. Noel. while Judge E. W. Pennington will represent the prosecution.

LONDON WITNESSES STRANGE SPECTACLE

Claremont, Va., May 20.—The dedication of Lincoin Hail of the Temperance Industrial and Collegiate Institute took place here today under a clear sky and with a large audience in attendance. Governor William Hodges Mann, of Virginia, presided, and made an address which is regarded as one of his best efforts.

Lincoln Hall is the first building to Lincoln Hall is the first building to be erected in the South in honor of Abraham Lincoln and represents, with its fixtures, an outlay of $55,000. The lighting and power plant erected at a cost of $25,000, and the John Hay wharf, erected in honor of the Secretary of State under President Mc-Kiniey, were also dedicated.

Professor John L Smallwood pract. Professor John J Smallwood, president of the institution, made a few opening remarks, touching upon the struggles encountered in bringing the institution to its present state of efficiency. Following this, he introduced the Hon. W. Stanley Burt, representing the counties of Surry and Prince George, in the Virgin'a Legislature, who made a brief talk commending the school and its president for the good work being done in educating the negroes of the South to a higher plane of usefulness. Governor Mann was then presented y Mr. Burke and he made a profound impression upon the audience. The lovernor frequently made reference to the State of Massachusetts in his diress, prominent men from that state being present. The Governor touched upon the agricultural conditions in Virginia several years ago, as compared with the present, and commended the work being done in the State by the Boys' Corn Clubs in every county. He paid a great tribute to Abraham Lincoln, saying that he considered him one of the greatest being men that ever lived.

Governor Deneen, of Illinois, was expected, but on account of injuries sustained in an accident could not come. Sunday was the largest day in point of attendance, excursions being run by the steamer Pocahonias from Richmond and by the Southern Railway from Emporia, the boat and train being chartered by the institution.

The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. Fred M. Estes, of Boston, Mass. Sunday afternoon. The crowd was so great that the auditorium of the new building would not accommodate them and an open air meeting had to be heid.

Mr. Ellson said: "I suffered for some time with gastric and intestinal trouble. I was constipated and had all the annoying symptoms of indigestion. I lost a great deal of flesh and was considerably below normal weight.

"I started to take 'Tona Vita,' and immediately commenced to take on flesh and was relieved, and believe cured of all my gastric and intestinal troubles. I think a great deal of 'Tona Vita.'"

"People who are nervous and irritable, have imperfect digestion and stomach disorder, lack energy and ambition, feel melancholy and discouraged, suffer with headaches, backaches, poor memory, unsound sleep, poor circulation, sallow complexions, and who are susceptible to coughs and colds, are unquestionably suffering with that modern plague—nervous debility," say the specialists who are introducing "Tona Vita."

"There are thousands of such half-sick men and women in this country, who really do not know just what is the trouble with them," said one of these specialists.

"They struggle aimlessly along until they become totally debilitated, and oftentimes they come to us suffering from this dereafful condition in its most aggravated form.

Washington, May 20.—A large company of Democratic women gathered here to-day at a breakfast to recall from the haze of a hundred years ago a gentle presence which once dominated Washington society.

The women, constituting this faminine Democracy, were mostly the wives and daugiaters of Democrats, although any woman allied with a disciple of Jefferson was eligible to attend. The woman thus hengred on the one hundred and fortieth anniversary of her birth was Dolly Madison, wife of a President of the United States and social arbiter during four administrations, for Mrs. Madison was virtually mistress of the White House during the regime of Jefferson, whose term of office preceded her husband's.

Mrs. Madison's personality, indelibly interinted on the life of her day and generation, was recounted by several modern women of Democracy. Mrs. Madison's character, first paid her respects to Mrs. Madison's therefore, when the promoting good feeling among Democratic women by having them meet each other." Making allowances for Mrs. Madison's lack of early education and the advantages of travel, Mrs. Bryan said the famous mistress of the White House would be remembered "for what she did."

Continuing, Mrs. Bryan said of the famous boily: "As a Quakeress she was sober and demure, in official life she was taeful, graedous, dignified or gay, as the occasion demanded; in later life, faithfull; in old age, serene."
